

Dear Parents,

Quilts and warmers, icy winds and cheer filling our hearts and our little kids looking snug in their lovely winter gear sum up the spirit of season.

We begin our new year with hope in our hearts and passion in our strides to do our best. As the academic year draws to a close we are taking giant steps ahead leaving no stone unturned in our pursuit of perfection and preparedness for the coming session.

warmer and longer days compared to the nights or the termination of winter season and the onset of harvest season.

In lieu of prevailing weather conditions we are focusing on sensitizing them on how to protect and keep themselves safe in this weather. They will be watching various videos on how to take care of themselves during the winter season. They are going to be familiarised and will learn different ways like what food to eat, clothes to wear and how to keep themselves clean during these winter months .

The fine motor development of a child has been a focus area throughout the year . The students have been practicing a variety of fine motor activities to enable better pencil control. In January we shall be giving them pencils, as their grip has been developed to a very large extent. Come February everything seems alive with the riot of colours all around, in the parks and at home, in the garden and on the window sills. Nature's amazing bounty can really be experienced up close. Who doesn't love a garden and when the sunlight is soft and the winter cold is thawing? Undoubtedly February is the best month of the year as the weather goes. Our little ones will also bloom along with the dahlias, hollyhocks and geraniums and marigold. Excellence is something we all strive for, but this spirit has to be imbibed in the early years. So the value of the month is to understand the importance of giving your best. To ensure complete well being of our children a comprehensive health check up will be scheduled in the month of February.

March will come marching in close at the heels of February. The woollens would be gone, the sunlight stronger. The early feel of summer would be pervasive. The festival of Holi would be celebrated all across the City, in homes, in building societies, amongst friends and relatives. Colours would be sprinkled on clothes that would then look vibrant. The gulal, the pichkari – oh, it would be such fun! And then, everyone's favourite savoury, the Gujjia would be served, adding flavour to the colour. Our little ones would have a special assembly telling them about the festival. The value of the month is to understand the meaning of politeness.

The stories of the quarter would be “The cracked pot ” and ‘Pintu found a trumpet . As the session draws to a close, the little ones will emerge stronger, more knowledgeable and confident, as they move on to the next class. It would be a proud moment for you as parents to see them graduate their class, inching towards progress.

A cultural event of the Foundation would happen in March. The little ones would be presenting a musical play with music and dances. This would be a grand finale, bringing down the curtain on this academic session. Our tiny buds would have blossomed by then and would be ready to move into the kindergarten.

Warm Regards,

Class Teacher

Traffic Light

Red light Red light what do you say?
 I say stop, and stop right away
 Yellow light, yellow light, what do you mean?
 I mean wait till the lights turn green
 Green light, green light, what do you say?
 I say cross, but please look each way
 Thank-you , thank-you: red, yellow, green
 Now we know what the traffic lights mean.

Its's Winter

It's winter, It's winter &
 I am feeling cold.
 It's winter, It's winter &
 I've got cold.
 I'm coughing, I'm sneezing,
 I'm blowing my nose.
 I am trembling from the
 Top of my head to toes.
 It's winter, It's winter
 The nights are so long &
 So short is the day.
 I hardly get anytime to go out and play.

Republic Day

I salute my flag
 It makes me proud
 I am an Indian
 It says out loud
 Three bright colours
 Adorn my flag saffron, white and green
 Make me glad
 Three bright colours adorn my flag
 The ashoka chakra blue and white
 Spins for progress flying high
 I salute my flag
 It makes me proud
 I am an Indian
 It says out loud
